UN Urged To Recognise Existence of Two Chinas

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The Nigerian foreign minister called on the United Nations today to recognize the existence of two Chinas and to accept both the Nationalist and Communist governments as UN members. The two-China plan was advanced by Jaja Wachuku in a speech before the 103-nation General Assembly in which he urged that the China representation dispute be taken out of "the cold war."

The Nigerian diplomat appealed to the Peking regime to drop its demands for the expulsion of the Chinese Nationalist government and to apply for membership as a new country. This was the first time the two-China idea had been advanced during the current China debate which began last Friday. Informed sources said a number of African countries have been considering such a move. Both the Peking and Nationalist governments have spoken out strongly against any two-China settlement. United States delegate Adlai Stevenson also rejected the idea of two Chinas in his speech last week. Liberian delegate Jary Ford Cooper, who followed Wachuku, disagreed with the Nigerian proposal. He said there are two Chinese governments but only one China. The debate was adjourned until Wednesday afternoon. Meanwhile, a concerted Afro-Asian attack on the U.S. attempt to bar Red China built up steam.

Just Like A Peace Talk On Phone

LONDON (CP)—Two telephone robots talked to each other for hours recently without coming to any understanding. It all began, says the general post office's monthly The Telephonist, when an electricity sub-station "somewhere in the provinces" broke down. The first robot's job when this happens is to dial operator and say: "There is a fault at this power station. Please send repair men." When the fault developed, the robot alerted dialled O for operator. Nobody had told him the operator's number has been changed to 100. So all he got was the second robot saying: "You no longer dial O for operator. Please replace your receiver and dial 100." "For all I know they went on and on like that for hours," said The Telephonist's editor. "Like statements at a peace conference — and with about the same effect."

U Thant Orders Jets To Back Ground Force

Fighting has today again broken out in Elisabethville between United Nations and Katanga forces. Many people have fled the city in panic, and U Thant, acting secretary general of the UN, has ordered UN jets to be flown to the capital to back up ground forces.

Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba, ranking Katanga official in the absence of president Moise Tshombe, charged the UN started the shooting and declared, "Katanga will fight and defend itself." Kimba listed nine wounded so far on Katanga's side but said he did not know the extent of UN casualties. The UN said two white mercenaries were killed by Indian troops in dispersing a Katanga force found lying in ambush outside headquarters of the United Nations. There were other casualties on both sides, the UN said.

The sound of mortar and other firing from several directions started a panic exodus from this capital of the secessionist province. Contrary to UN reports that all Katanga ministers also had fled, Kimba held a press conference with all ministers present. The firing later stopped and Elisabethville showed signs of slowly coming back to life again after the first shock of the afternoon fighting. Kimba said: "Unless the United Nations modify immediately its attitude toward Katanga, we will consider ourselves in a state of war."

There are four UN strong points at Elisabethville—the airport, which is vitally necessary for supply and reinforcement; UN headquarters, where there is a UN Indian troop camp; a Swedish UN camp and the Lido Hotel.

Soviet Army Vehicle Held By Americans In Berlin

BERLIN — A Russian military vehicle was stopped for about an hour by two American military police cars in West Berlin early today, an American army spokesman said. The American cars parked in front of and behind the Russian vehicle near the Friedrichstrasse crossing point on the East-West Berlin border.

It was the latest in a series of incidents involving American and Soviet cars in both parts of Berlin. An American spokesman said Monday that three American military police cars were harassed by East Berlin police Sunday night. A Russian car was held up for an hour in the American sector Monday.

The East German finished work on new walls and tank obstacles at the checkpoints before nightfall and withdrew hundreds of troops that had guarded the 2,500 workmen.

U.S. TROOPS WITHDRAW A platoon of 30 U.S. infantry, who had faced several hundred East German soldiers, police and factory militia 15 yards away at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point, were withdrawn after the Reds marched off. Meantime, West Berlin police reported that an 18-year-old girl and a man aged 21 jumped from the 100-foot high roof of an East Berlin border building into a street held by West German firemen in the French sector here today. They were taken to a hospital with bruises.

Two RCMP constables also assisted in the search. The search and rescue team, composed of Vernon Fish and Game Club members headed by Edward Hornell, came on Douglas south of Vernon in the King Edward Lake area.

'True Nation' Necessary To Save Confederation

TORONTO (CP)—Confederation will be saved only if Canada is strong enough to build a true Canadian nation, Jean-Louis Gagnon, vice-president and editor-in-chief of Le Nouveau Journal of Montreal, said today.

Discussing Quebec's separatist movement, the executive of Canada's newest daily newspaper said in a speech to the Canadian Club that Quebec is fighting for its identity just as English-speaking Canada is fighting to "save its integrity" from United States encroachment.

"We know what is the price one has to pay to be different," he said. "We have been told many times that to speak French and to maintain our cultural institutions of our own is a luxury for which we have to foot the bill."

"Are you ready to do the same? No doubt it would be cheaper to jump into the melting pot. To be a Canadian in America is becoming as much difficult and expensive as it is to remain a French-speaking Canadian in Canada."

WON'T MAKE IT

"... You will never make it if you do not take us in on your side."

"As it is, Confederation will be saved only if we are strong enough to build a true Canadian nation. It is for us to deal with separatism and to open our eyes to the reality of things."

The text of Mr. Gagnon's remarks was issued to the press in advance of delivery.

"Coexistence is no substitute for national unity. If so many years after the birth of Confederation, we are still in search of a true Canadian nation, I say that nothing can save Confederation but a new deal, a new alliance, between French- and English-speaking Canada. For as long as the choice will be between isolation and assimilation, there will be no answer to our national problem."

UK Publishes History Of Two-Germans Issue

LONDON (Reuters)—The British government today published a history of East-West views on the German problem and laid the blame for the continued existence of two Germanies on Soviet refusal to allow free elections.

A 484-page blue book issued by the government contained 108 basic published documents, available here for the first time in such form.

The documents set out the views of East and West on all major aspects of the German and Berlin questions from 1944 up to last September.

In the introduction, the government said the Communist sealing off of East Berlin last August destroyed the last substantial link between the people in the two parts of Germany.

"The free existence of West Berlin now is threatened by the Soviet government's claim that it has the power to abolish by unilateral action Western rights in Berlin and by its declared intention of taking such action if the Western powers do not meet its wishes on Berlin and Germany," it said.

The government said the documents—international agreements, diplomatic notes, communications and extracts from speeches—serve to show the West's repeated efforts to carry out the policy for rehabilitating a united Germany which both sides agreed to at the end of the Second World War.

The efforts were blocked, the government said, by a fundamental difference of approach. The West insisted on the German people's right of self-determination and their right to hold free elections to form a representative government entitled to sign a peace treaty.

"The Soviet government on the other hand has consistently opposed the idea of free elections because of the effect these undoubtedly would have on the undemocratic regime in East Germany."

"In support of that regime, it now threatens the freedom of West Berlin by attempting to undermine the rights and responsibilities of the Western powers in that city," the government said.

Steps to be taken to achieve this objective include strict quality control of Indian goods, special export incentives such as rebates on rail freight charges from factories to Indian ports and permission to use part of export earnings to import machinery.

To induce industrialists still reluctant to move into foreign markets, the government plans to enact a law making it compulsory to reserve part of the production of certain industries for export.

The export drive has taken on added urgency following Britain's decision to start negotiations for entry into the European Common Market. Britain is the largest single market for Indian goods, mainly tea, jute and cotton textiles.

One of the handicaps of exporters of Indian goods has been their dependence on a limited number of countries for their markets.

The bulk of India's export earnings are also from a few items such as tea, jute and textiles.

FEAR MARKET

If Britain joins the Common Market, Indians fear their goods may be priced out of the British market through higher tariffs.

Another factor spurring the Indian government in the export drive is India's urgent need to earn more foreign exchange to finance its ambitious third five-year plan.

One of the handicaps of exporters of Indian goods has been their dependence on a limited number of countries for their markets.

The bulk of India's export earnings are also from a few items such as tea, jute and textiles.

Indian exporters have been told to diversify their trade—not only by selling their products to more countries but by adding new items for sale abroad.

Phone Company Increase Under Fire By Council

The Daily Courier CITY PAGE

City Council Concerned Over Dropping Lake Level

Okanagan Lake level is now down to 98.99 feet—less than six inches above the usual March level with four months yet to go.

This was reported to Kelowna City Council Monday by Ald. A. J. Treadgold.

He suggested a strong letter be sent to Kelowna's MLA, Premier Bennett, in an effort to seek a solution to this ever-increasing problem.

Ald. Treadgold arranged a meeting between Mayor R. F. Parkinson, himself and government officials for today. Clerk James Hudson will also attend. Purpose is to discuss lake level which has fallen steadily after two hot, dry summers and winters with below average precipitation.

The alderman said the Water Right Branch and not the Department of Highways was responsible for lake level.

Mayor Parkinson said he had talked to the assistant deputy minister of highways in Victoria who stated the subject was a complex one. Chief engineer for the department, to which the mayor referred, added that many factors were involved.

Lake level is dependent on such factors as the control operation at Pentlitzon, annual precipitation and climate.

Mayor Parkinson suggested further talks with the department engineers before approaching the premier.

"They are probably doing all they can. Lackadaisical work has been done. They are using old maps. The whole thing should come under the Water Rights Branch who gauge and estimate precipitation. The whole control at Pentlitzon should be reviewed", Ald. Treadgold said.

MUCK FROM TRUCKS WILL VANISH SOON

The mess resulting from trucking muck from the lake during the Kelowna Yacht basin dredging operation, will soon be cleaned up.

Work is almost complete and streets, which have given cars and pedestrians' shoes a coating of lake mud will be cleaned. Crosswalks, as a matter of fact, will be cleaned immediately, then, when work is completed, the streets will be washed down.

It has proven an almost impossible task to retain the muck in the trucks during transport to a site near the Vocational College where fill is required.

Pentlitzon Asked In On Fire Aid Meeting Here

Kelowna was to have contacted Pentlitzon today to ask their official participation in a meeting at which mutual fire aid among Okanagan Valley communities will be discussed.

The meeting, spearheaded by the Oyanima volunteer fire organization and other interested groups, will take place tonight at the Kelowna city hall at 8 p.m.

Representation from all communities of the valley is expected as promised, but Pentlitzon has taken a stand which favored such a meeting under the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association.

Some Kelowna alderman disagreed with this and therefore the local group will endeavor to have official sanction for a Pentlitzon delegation.

PURPOSE
Purpose of the meeting is to discuss possibilities for mutual aid and not to formulate policy at this time.

There are 29 modern firefighting trucks in the Okanagan Valley now, according to Alderman D. Crookes, who termed the effect of a mutual aid plan "fabulous."

He has been asked to chair the meeting.

Mayor Parkinson lauded the Oyanima group who suggested and organized the meeting which will be attended by representatives from all Okanagan Valley communities.

PEST EXPERIMENTS

SUMMERLAND, B.C. (CP)—To combat moth pest, experiments will be conducted by the research station here. Males of the species will be sterilized by radiation. It is hoped this will eradicate the apple tree pest in eight generations.

OPERATION COSTS
Alderman E. Winter, in a further effort to bring all the facts concerning the proposed $128,000 police administration building before the public, who will vote on a money bylaw on Thursday, stated that costs of operation of the building will be partially aided by rentals from RCMP out-of-town patrols, the probation offices and the RCMP identification staff.

VOTE YES
Mr. Winter also stated that of 197 eligible voters for the $48,000 referendum on purchase of the Chapman property had each been contacted. Response to the plan for development of downtown offstreet parking, was favorable among those eligible, and a "yes" vote was looked for on Thursday.

CHAMBER REP
Chamber of Commerce representative at Monday's city council meeting was Arthur Hughes-Games.

ELECTRICITY USED
Alderman R. D. Horton reported, as chairman of the elec-

City To Seek Meeting With Company Superintendent

City council has until Dec. 22 to prepare a brief against an application to the Public Utilities Commission by the Okanagan Telephone Company for an increase in telephone rates.

Council, however, at the suggestion of Mayor R. F. Parkinson, will first seek a meeting with S. R. Muirhead, company superintendent, and other company officials to obtain more facts and figures before deciding whether a public hearing shall be warranted.

Discussion on telephone rates came after a copy of the company's application was received by council at Monday night's meeting.

Alderman A. Jackson pointed out the proposed rate increases, comparing them with other communities in the Okanagan Valley and Kamloops, the latter served by the B.C. Telephone Company.

A meeting will be arranged and, in addition, the Chamber of Commerce executive, which meets this afternoon, will be asked for their thoughts on the subjects and their support.

Rates, according to Alderman Jackson, may be determined according to the number of subscribers.

HIGHEST RATES

One party rates in Pentlitzon, are $4.50 for residence service as in Vernon. Proposed increase would bring this rate to $4.70. In Kelowna the same rate at present is $4.80 and the company wants to raise it to $5.05. In Kamloops, B.C. Telephone charges $4.60.

Individual business rates in Pentlitzon are now $6.90 with a proposed rate increase to $8.95. In Kelowna the present rate is $7.50 and the proposed rate is $9.75.

Rates were drawn to council's attention by Alderman Jackson, and prompted considerable discussion before Mayor Parkinson made his city-company meeting suggestion. Council stated no time should be lost, considering the time left for an appeal.

NECESSARY

The mayor reported that in talks with company officials he had been informed that rate increases were necessary to complete expansion of the system and to ameliorate debt.

He suggested hearing their side before going to the PUC with objections to the increases.

Alderman Jackson suggested other municipalities affected by the rate increases may wish to join with Kelowna in an appeal to PUC.

Chartered Banks Speech Wins Toastmaster Trophy

Lloyd Schmidt won the Grant Bishop Memorial trophy Monday night at the regular Toastmasters meeting for his speech on "The Chartered Bank of Canada".

Tom Capozzi, toastmaster of the evening, introduced the speaker. A new toastmaster, Dr. John Harland, gave his icebreaker speech.

Toastmaster Bruce McMillan came up with a new idea for Table Topics. He had toastmasters, two at a time, debating subjects that covered everything from the Berlin Crisis to Socialized medicine.

MORE TIME
Bill Bennett, as the general evaluator, reminded all toastmasters to devote more time to their preparation of material to be used at meetings, and suggested that all critics pay more attention to the fundamentals of public speaking.

Mr. Schmidt, in his five-minute speech, said "I wonder how many of us realize what it would be like if we did not have a bank to put our money in or a bank from which we could borrow money when important purchases or investments crop up. And also how many of us know the story behind banking."

He went on "A distinctive feature of our banking system is the fact that bank charters expire and come up for renewal every ten years. They are not renewed until parliament makes a clause by clause examination of the Bank Act and considers any amendments."

Both Cold, Hot Days In Month

The month of November had its cold days and its hot periods.

Coldest day of the month was the 23rd when the temperature dropped to 12 degrees. November 10 was the hottest day of the month with a mercury reading of 52 degrees.

Monthly mean maximum was 39.90 while the minimum mean was 23.73.

RETURNED BY ACCLAMATION

Two rural district school trustees yesterday were returned to office by acclamation at the close of Nominating Day. In Zone One which includes Oyanima, Winfield, Okanagan Centre and North Glenmore, returned to his post was A. G. Pollard, left, and in Zone Two which includes the districts of Westbank, Lakeview and all the way to the Penticton border, J. W. Maddock resumed his post. Neither office, was contested.

The remaining members of the Kelowna and District School Board are still serving a term.

TRAFFIC REPORT

City Officer Collinson Receives Special Praise

Special city traffic officer Ian Collinson came in for special mention at Monday night's council meeting.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson and council members were unanimous in their praise of the work done by Mr. Collinson, whose attention to traffic safety was said to be "beyond and above the call of duty."

In a comprehensive report of traffic in the city, the officer stated traffic was not heavy during the month of November. There was a tendency however, for motorists to "run" amber lights at controlled intersections and to ignore some stop signs, a matter Mr. Collinson and the RCMP will note in the future.

IMPROVEMENT
Mr. Collinson also reported that further improvement of the traffic situation at the conroversial "No Left Turn" intersection at Ellis and Bernard, had been noted, although about 50 per cent of those apprehended to stop at stop signs, three with ed stated evidence of signs was non-existent. New signs and larger signs, together with white warning lighted signs were installed recently.

Offences and fines resulting from Mr. Collinson's work were reported as follows:

Mayor Hopes For 'Yes' Vote On Building

"Growing pains," is how Mayor Parkinson described the events which have led to proposed construction of a new police administration building in Kelowna.

In a brief talk to council, the mayor stated the public had now been given all known facts concerning the bylaw, and a "yes" vote was hoped for by the members.

"The idea is not to give luxurious accommodation to prisoners, but to improve working conditions for both police and city hall staffs for the benefit of law enforcement and civic administration," said the mayor.

"My desire is to get the best possible quarters for my detachment so we can do the best possible job for the city," stated Staff Sergeant McKay, NCO in charge of Kelowna RCMP, who attended Monday's council session.

Voters are asked to remember this, as marking of four names on any of these two ballots will constitute a spoiled ballot.

"However, the ballots are quite clear," stated Mr. Herbert, who predicted counting would not terminate on election night, "until at least 11 o'clock, maybe twelve."

Kelowna's poll at the Centennial Hall Memorial Arena, will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. on election day.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

Fulton Replies on Senior Citizen Housing

A letter to Alderman D. Crookes from Justice Minister Fulton in Ottawa stated Mr. Fulton's inquiry on behalf of a Kelowna request, to Hon. J. W. Monteth, Minister of National Health and Welfare, disclosed it was not possible to have a city-sponsored hostel for senior citizens financially aided by the federal government under the Hospital Construction Grants system.

Mr. Fulton said he would refer the matter to Hon. D. Walker, Minister of Public Works who would explain how the construction of the Kamloops-Glenview Senior Citizens' Housing project was financed.

Gyro Park Valuable Asset For District

Tonight and tomorrow night local television audiences will have the opportunity once again of enjoying and participating in the annual Kelowna Gyro Club auction. This program has a twofold purpose: to provide entertainment and to raise funds for the promotion of a worthy local project.

The auction is no new thing to Central Okanagan people. It has been an annual project for a decade or more and has become one of the standard projects which is looked forward to and enjoyed by many people.

It does provide entertainment in that the auctioneering staff are local people and local people are always of interest to local people. We are still small-townish enough for that, thank goodness. And there is fun. The whole program is a light-hearted and impromptu affair and there is no telling just when some wit will give forth with a side-splitting pun or some unprofessional auctioneer will hopelessly garble his lines.

Of course, the ideal way to enjoy the program is to get right into it. By bidding. It is easy to bid; as easy as to use the telephone. There is an old and true saying that one gets out of a thing just what one puts into it and this is true in the case of the Gyro auction. Those who participate through bidding on the various items, have a lot more fun than those who just sit and watch.

There should be no impression that by bidding one is making a donation. This is far from the case. One may bid on any number of items and receive good value for any successful purchase. The bidder has a clear indication of the normal retail value of the item being auctioned and this serves as a good guide for the amount of the bids. Some persons do desire to go over the indicated value and that is their privilege—certainly the Gyros will not object—but on the other hand, some of the customers make downright steals as they obtain the item at much less than the normal retail price. Anyway it is all fun.

And fun for a good cause. All the money, other than certain expenses which are chiselled to the barest minimum, goes to maintain and improve Boyce Gyro Park, just south of the city limits. There is no need surely to emphasize here the use made of this park by the people of this area nor is there any necessity of dwelling on the fact that it is a tremendous asset to the Central Okanagan. Enough to say that it has the finest beach on the whole lake, that it is well equipped and is kept in good condition. And it is available to the public without any charge whatsoever. The result is that it is enjoyed by thousands of people every summer. Many of them are visitors; many of them are city people; many, many of them are people from the rural areas seeking relaxation by the lake. Community picnics, organizational picnics, family picnics, Sunday school picnics—all these and more are naturally scheduled for Gyro park because of its accessibility and its excellent facilities for persons of all ages.

But the very fact that the park is well used does cause additional problems. It must be kept clean; the grass must be kept cut; the playground equipment must be kept in order; the washrooms must be maintained; there must be wood ready for the fireplaces—these and other items do require, work, time and money. Vandalism plays its part, too, and a caretaker is required.

It all adds up to a very considerable annual maintenance bill for the Gyros and this money is obtained through this one annual project of the club. The money raised from the auction goes to maintain the Gyro Park for the enjoyment of the public.

Certainly without the funds from the auction and the frequent voluntary work parties of the club members, the park project would be too onerous and expensive for the club to carry. The very desirable site could be disposed of at a handsome profit to the club but this would withdraw it from public use and this the club members do not want to do. They choose to keep it available for the public, even though this does mean summer work parties and a very considerable amount of work at auction time that the required funds may be obtained.

The auction is a sound proposition. It does raise funds and it does it in a manner in which all who participate get full value for their money spent. Donations are not asked, but in buying auctioned items, the buyer is contributing to the maintenance of the park and the keeping of this excellent property available for the public use.

Police Pay Rent

On Thursday ratepayers of Kelowna will vote on the approval of a new police and public safety building for the city. While generally referred to as a "police building", this name does not tell the whole story.

The building, in fact, will contain much more than police headquarters. There will be gaol cells, of course, but in addition it will provide quarters for the magistrate's court and thus relieve the city of the rent currently being paid for the use of the court house. Then, too, there will be quarters for the probation officer and civil defence.

The present police quarters in the city hall were never intended to be there. They were put there as a temporary measure when the city hall was built. Anyone having the slightest knowledge of gaol conditions there must admit that these conditions are a disgrace to this city. Indeed, they have been severely scored by health authorities many times. The police establishment does need new quarters, there can be no denying. Likewise the probation officer.

The proposed building would provide very definitely improved conditions for police, prisoners, magistrate's court, probation officer and civil defence officer.

However, it should not be forgotten that there would be a very considerable indirect benefit accruing to the people of this city. Kelowna has grown considerably since the city hall was built. What was thought ample and indeed generous space at that time has now been outgrown by the city. The removal of the police, gaol, and other offices from the city hall would make additional space available for the city staff, and thus postpone for some years probably, the need for extension of the city hall building itself. This is a point which should not be overlooked when casting your ballot on this bylaw.

One point which has disturbed some ratepayers is that the quarters provided for the police house not only the city detachment but also those who serve the surrounding district. Not unnaturally, it is asked why the city should provide accommodation for the police of the district and their prisoners.

When checked, the city hall stated that while this was so, the use of police and gaol for district purposes is paid for through rent. At one time some years ago, the arrangement was not at all satisfactory to the city but after some argument a satisfactory rental basis was arranged. City officials today are quite satisfied with the rental arrangement and point out that this rental basis is higher than that charged the city for space used in the court house by the city. There can be, they maintain, no valid objection to the bylaw on this score.

With that objection removed, there would seem to be no good reason for not casting a "yes" vote for this bylaw on Thursday. The building is needed for years. It will never be built at less cost than it can be built now and its construction will eliminate a condition which must make all thinking citizens blush with shame.

INSIDE YOU AND YOURS

Breathe Well See Doctor

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Imagine! Lungs so full of air you can't breathe! That's emphysema — air trapped inside the lungs. Emphysema begins when swollen lining, thick mucus and bronchial spasm narrow tiny air passages. Normally, you lift your ribs and lower both diaphragm muscles to inhale. When these muscles relax, elastic lungs squeeze out inhaled air.

But squeezed, narrow passages often clog completely. Air gushes in, but not out. Emphysema!

Bulging forward and upward, with ribs wide apart, your over-inflated chest resembles a barrel. Trapped air lowers the diaphragm partly out of action, too. You have to work harder to breathe—and breathe harder to work.

CRUSHES BLOOD VESSELS

Meanwhile, this trapped air crushes millions of tiny blood vessels where oxygen usually seeps into the circulation.

Your doctor can prescribe bronchial-relaxing medicines; also, a new breath-strengthening that whips up the brain's breathing control centre. Special machines can force down mucus-dissolving mists or help you cough.

Iodine prescriptions, steam vapor and cold mist all lubricate air passages. Supply inside moisture by drinking 3 quarts of fluid daily.

RAISE BED

With the foot of the bed raised 12 inches, mucus should pour out of the lower half of the lungs. The upper half drains when you stand and walk around.

Irritating smog and smoke can explode mild emphysema into serious trouble. Smoking is out.

You have to learn to breathe with your diaphragm.

HOW TO DO IT

Lie on your back with your feet raised. Place 2 or 3 digest magazines just below your breastbone. Sniff and snort with your tummy relaxed. The magazines should move as you inhale.

Tense your abdomen and whistle or hum to blow air out. Like a giant plunger, your liver should push the diaphragm up, forcing out extra air. Practice 10 times an hour.

And in between — hum or whistle while you breathe!

Swastika Memory Remains

WARSAW (Reuters)—In this era of the H-bomb, Poles appear to be tormented more by the memory of the swastika than by the shadow of the mushroom cloud.

In millions of Western minds, war means nuclear destruction. But the dispassionate observer in Poland could be excused for thinking that to millions here war in large measure still means "German imperialism," black crosses in the sky, Hitler's panzers on the ground and Nazi Gestapo squads rooting in the cellars.

Today, 17 years after Poland's liberation from German occupation in the Second World War, the wounds inflicted by those years of hate and terror still hurt so much that an appraisal of the new nightmare of the 1960s is badly neglected.

In a mild panic over Berlin recently, Poles raided the government food stores for salt, sugar, tea and flour. But there was hardly any talk of sealing off cellars against radioactive fallout or of building deep shelters.

OGRE ADENAUER

Official statements in this Communist country go a long way toward strengthening a national obsession with the West Germany of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

For instance, Communist Party Chief Wladyslaw Gomulka referred recently to the "long-range plans of aggression of German militarists and revisionists against Poland," which administers much pre-war German territory behind the Oder-Neisse line, and against other Communist countries.

Inside the Soviet camp, the Pole perhaps might be expected to view the West as his potential destroyer. However, there is little evidence he feels this way.

"We don't really expect the Americans or the British to drop H-bombs on us. But the Germans would if they had one." This remark sums up Polish thinking.

U.S. or British policy is viewed through the prism of "German revenge-seeking" — as if Washington and London were being dragged along behind the "warmongers" in Adenauer's capital at Bonn.

OTTAWA REPORT

S. America Wants Trade

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

"We the peoples of Latin America would welcome the opportunity of sitting round the conference table with you Canadians to explore whether there are any fields in which we might expand our mutual trade."

The speaker was Dr. Raul Prebisch, executive secretary of the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America. He was addressing a small group at a lunch given in his honor by Hon. Pierre Sevigny, who recently represented Canada at President Kennedy's "Alliance for Progress" conference in South America.

Mr. Sevigny has become known in Ottawa, since his return from that conference, as an ardent disciple of the doctrine that South America's 140,000,000 people could offer an impressive market for Canadian products. Last year they spent an average of 85 cents per head on buying Canadian exports; we Canadians for our part spent no less than $15.33 per head on buying South American exports.

$5 NOT A GOLDEN SHOWER

"Some critics suggest that we in Latin America could not afford to buy more from Canada," Dr. Prebisch told me. "But they should remember that dollars don't fall from heaven like manna. We could certainly afford to increase our purchases from Canada by as much as Canada chose to increase her purchases from us. Dollars don't mean anything, they are just a token of exchange."

This conversation stemmed from the suggestion by Mr. Sevigny that both sides might benefit from a conference at which the possibilities could be explored.

"Let Canada invite us to a trade conference in Ottawa," declared Dr. Prebisch, "and all Latin American nations will eagerly send top representatives."

The picture sketched by this distinguished Latin American economist is an enticing one. Latin America has long been known as an area where the few rich grew richer, and the multitudinous poor grew poorer. But reforms in the feudal practices of land tenure, which caused this great gulf between the "haves" and the "have-nots," are now being undertaken. There appears also to be growing a determination that plundering from the top shall cease, by corrupt or by over-ambitious political leaders. Of this Dr. Prebisch is personally well aware, for he it was who was called in to prescribe treatment for the economy of the Argentine, after it had been wrecked by intolerable expenditures on the grandiose schemes of former president Juan Peron.

AREA WILL DEVELOP

Today Latin America stands on the threshold of a new approach to international relations, with a search for markets all over the world, and a hope that the huge under-developed continent will thereby be able to earn enough foreign currency to pay for the manufactured products and machinery so desperately needed. Latin America would prefer, and would do better, to sell its natural products to Canada, for example, and to buy in exchange from us our manufactured goods, in much greater volume than today. The alternative would be, if Latin America cannot sell its products, to avoid buying manufactured goods elsewhere, and to commence making such goods in Latin America—a step the area is not yet ready to take, and a step which would confront the area with severe technological problems owing to its very low level of technical training and education generally.

Thus Dr. Prebisch, preaching more trade and freer trade for Latin America, proved readily receptive to the calculated suggestion which Hon. Pierre Sevigny made to him. It was not missed by the audience that this suggestion appeared to arouse receptiveness rather than outright rejection among some key listeners, who included Finance Minister Fleming, Deputy Trade Minister Roberts, and Bank of Canada Governor Rasminsky.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

POLICE BUILDING

The Editor,
The Daily Courier.

Dear Sir:

The Kelowna and District Branch of the John Howard Society of British Columbia, at the regular business meeting held November 27, voted unanimously to endorse the City Council's intention to propose a new Police Administration building through a money bylaw on December 7th.

The society gave a good deal of study to the issue, and examined the present facilities, together with consideration of future needs. Hope was expressed that Kelowna citizens would support the bylaw and thereby not only equip the machinery of justice to function with new efficiency but add an element of dignity to the handling of its social problems. A dignity that has not been possible under present, overcrowded and, at times, unsanitary conditions.

Alderman Winter and Staff Sergeant MacKay addressed the meeting, outlining City Council's plans, and both were questioned in regard to many details. John Woodworth, architect, outlined some of the proposed and preliminary plans for the building.

The society voted to continue its interest in the plan, hoping to study the proposed facilities further, if the bylaw is successful.

T. HAMILTON,
Chairman,
John Howard Society
Jail Committee.

Helps Bring Recognition To Many Canadian Playwrights

Mrs. Gladys Cameron Watt, a frail, silver-haired woman in her 60s, born and raised in the United States, is among the most energetic and dedicated patrons of Canadian theatre.

For nearly a quarter-century she has been the guiding hand of the Canadian Playwriting Competition.

"We want to get the voice of Canada expressed in the theatre," she says. "And to really develop a Canadian theatre we must develop Canadian playwrights to speak through it."

Largely as a result of her efforts and the work of the Ottawa Little Theatre Workshop, a small committee she has headed for 14 years, more Canadians enter the competition each year.

This year 87 manuscripts of one-act plays were received from many parts of Canada. They came from housewives, doctors, lawyers, military officers and professional writers.

Mrs. Watt has turned her Ottawa home into a library and archives of Canadian theatre. Since her husband died a few years ago and her two sons entered university, she has devoted most of her time to the competition.

She also carries on correspondence with theatrical groups across the country which borrow manuscripts from her library.

Each year an outstanding Canadian dramatist is named adjudicator for the competition. From the workshop he receives the entries, which are identified only by numbers. The adjudicator writes a frank appraisal of each play and selects three prize-winners. These are then produced by the Ottawa Little Theatre.

The 1961 adjudicator, Donald Wetmore, adult education expert for the Nova Scotia government, awarded one special mention and five honorable mentions in addition to the three prizes, each worth $225.

The top 21 scripts cry out to be produced," Mr. Wetmore said.

The winners were They're Burning Down the House by Theo M. Dunn of Montreal, The helped bring to Canadian playwrights is greater. Award-winning plays of past competitions have been produced as often as 1,000 times by Canadian drama groups. Among them were some she wrote. Some have been produced on Broadway, others adapted for television and radio, still others translated and produced abroad.

ONE-ACTERS DIFFICULT
Mrs. Watt says the competition is restricted to one-act plays because this form is considered one of the most difficult and demanding.

The one-act play is a valuable discipline in training writers. Every line must contribute to the characters and the play; there is no padding.

Mrs. Watt has taken a deep interest in the theatre since she was an English and voice teacher in a New York high school.

After her marriage to Roy MacGregor Watt in 1917, they moved to Dauphin, Man., where he was a forestry engineer for the Manitoba government. Mr. Watt joined the federal government service in 1937 and they moved to Ottawa where they helped found the Little Theatre Workshop the same year.

Mrs. Watt has written many plays herself and has helped produce others as a director, actress or even makeup artist. She still finds time to play walk-on pantomime roles in Little Theatre productions and to paint landscapes.

Her work for Canadian theatre has not gone without recognition. In 1958 she received the Canadian Drama Award from the British Columbia Drama Association, and in 1954 was given an award by the city of Ottawa. But the recognition she has helped bring to Canadian playwrights is greater. Award-winning plays of past competitions have been produced as often as 1,000 times by Canadian drama groups. Among them were some she wrote. Some have been produced on Broadway, others adapted for television and radio, still others translated and produced abroad.

100 MILLION CANADIANS

Frankly, we'd just be guessing. This year our total customers soared above the three-million mark. But which new customer in our network of 875 branches was the one between 2,999,999 and 3,000,001, we have no way of knowing.

But we do know our 3-millionth customer will probably use the B of M in many ways... to save for the things he wants, to finance his automobile at low cost, to pay his household bills and to keep his valuables safe.

If he is a businessman, he might use Canada's first bank to finance his day-to-day operations, to pay his employees, to collect and remit money the world over... if he is a farmer, "MY BANK" might be called upon to finance new trucks, modern barns and labour-saving electrical equipment.

He's very important to us, that 3-millionth customer. Never before in our long history have we been privileged to serve so many. We number with a good deal of pride those three million expressions of trust from people who call the Bank of Montreal "MY BANK".

TOP TEACHER

Currently tops in North Okanagan Hockey League standings are the Lumbly Flying Frenchmen who have won seven games without loss this season. Coach is former Vancouver Canucks star Bobby Hallance, far right. He is seen giving some fine points of hockey to Frenchmen, from left, Pete Balkwell, Bob Edwards, Ron Catt and Gary Anderson at Vernon Civic Arena. The trio of players are among the league's top point getters.

Top Figure Skating Prize Goes to Vernon's Lynne

VERNON — Here are the results of the 9th annual Okanagan-Mainline Figure Skating Association championship held at the Summerland Jubilee Arena, West Summerland, over the weekend.

Five clubs, including Kamloops, Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton and Vernon participated.

Official referee for the competitions was Granville Mayall of Vancouver, past president of the Canadian Figure Skating Association.

Heading the Vernon contingent of winners was 15-year-old Lynne Sawicki, who captured the highest class event of the competitions, the Okanagan-Mainline Senior Ladies' Trophy, donated by the Hudson Bay Co.

Laura Donovan won the juvenile ladies' trophy, newly donated by the Summerland Chamber of Commerce. This class had 14 entries from the various clubs.

Dianne King placed third in the second place winners. Trevor Kayzer won the pre-junior men's trophy, also newly donated by the Kelowna Secretariat School, in a class of nine young men.

WELL REPRESENTED

Vernon was well represented in the second place winners. Bob MacDonald was runner-up in the juvenile men's event. Ann Gorman was runner-up in the intermediate ladies' event. Frank Pearson with Miyoko Chiba were runners-up in the veterans' dance event. Lynne Sawicki placed second in the most artistic award.

Third place winners included Jo Watson and Shawny Prentice who teamed up for the juvenile ladies' pair, a class of nine pair entries.

Linda Fulton placed third in the novice ladies' class which included 14 competitors. Bob MacDonald and Miyoko Chiba were runners-up in the closely contested bronze dance event. Vernon Figure Skating Club professional is Wendy Dunlop.

Miyoko Chiba, Bob MacDonald, Ann Gorman and Lynne Sawicki are pupils of Shirley Langham who assists Mrs. Dunlop each Friday.

Miss Chiba was judge for the competitions. Technical advisor was Edric Oswald of Kelowna, chairman of the Okanagan-Mainline Judges' Bureau. Next year the competitions will be in Vernon.

Okanagan Mission Scouts Report Successful Year

The annual general meeting of the Okanagan Mission Boy Scout Association, held recently at the Scout Hall, had a very satisfactory attendance of about 45 parents and local residents, and much interest and enthusiasm was expressed at the Group Committee's report of another very successful year.

The meeting opened with a display of the Cub Packs, with sixteen selected for principal parts, whereby the name 'Baden Powell' was spelled out by Cub Scouts holding large letter cards. Five other Cub Scouts then presented on cards the component parts of the Union Jack, and finally the completed flag. The display ended with Over the Mountain, etc., sung with great Cub enthusiasm and led by Assistant Bob Hughes.

The business meeting was then called to order under the chairmanship of J. P. Fergusson, and, after the minutes of the last annual general meeting had been presented and adopted, the financial statement was presented by Henry Hobson, chairman of the finance committee, and duly adopted.

VERY SATISFACTORY

The annual reports from Scoutmaster Ross Lemmon and Cubmaster Syd Sargent were then presented and gave a very satisfactory picture of Scout and Cub activity over the past year. Scoutmaster Lemmon reviewed the year's work in some detail and outlined a number of the troop's activities, among which were the Winter Camp at Timbeline, and an all day trip to Silver Star Ski Camp. Among the highlights of the year was the hosting, at the Okanagan Mission Scout Hall in May, of a Patrol Leader Conference and Banquet, one of the first of its kind in the Valley, and which was a crowded occasion with an attendance of some 50 or so Patrol Leaders of Scout Troops from Oya to Penticton.

A new and very worthwhile project was the 1960 Christmas Tree Drive, and Scoutmaster Lemmon asked that a vote of thanks be given to Bob Brown-Clayton, whose permission to cut these trees on his property some miles back in the hills, had been so generously given. Scoutmaster Lemmon expressed great hopes for the success of the present season and his report was unanimously adopted.

MUTUAL PACT

The Cub report was then presented by late Cubmaster Bob Kerr, in lieu of present Cubmaster Syd Sargent by mutual arrangement. Bob Kerr explained that, with the approval of the Group Committee, an experiment was being tried of the amalgamation of "A" and "Z" Packs into one Pack with four instructors, and was working well. He also reported that Cub enrollment and activities were in a very healthy state and his report was unanimously adopted.

Chairman Fergusson, then made his annual report, and reviewed the activities of the past year. He asked for most sincere appreciation of the untiring work of the uniform group of leaders and their assistants, upon whom the whole purpose and future of the Scout and Cub movement depends. He specially named Scoutmaster Ross Lemmon, and on behalf of the Group Committee and all those present at the meeting, tendered him very high praise and thanks for his never failing energy and enthusiasm in his work of Scouting.

EQUAL PRAISE

The chairman then asked that equal praise and appreciation be extended to Cubmaster Syd Sargent, Asst. Cubmasters Bob Kerr, Dave Gordon, Michael Painter and Patrol Leader Bob Hughes, who assisted with Cub training, in addition to his work with the Scouts.

Mr. Fergusson then outlined the work and responsibilities of the Group Committee and asked for sincere recognition of its work throughout the season. The sub-committees of Transportation and Camping under Geoff Sarsons, Building Committee under Jack Stevens, Finance Committee under Henry Hobson, Financial Drives Committee under Eric Tasker, as well as others for Publicity, Father and Son Banquet etc. had all worked well and contributed to the success of the past year.

A vote of thanks was called for and given to all who had contributed in any way to the work of Scouting, especially to the Ladies Auxiliary for the provision of refreshments etc. to Henry Hobson, Chartered Accountant, for the auditing of the accounts, and to all who had so generously provided trucks and cars for camp transportation, bottle drives, etc.

ELECTION

The election of officers then took place and Mr. Fergusson announced the list of retiring members of the Group Committee. These were Tom Hughes, Bob Knox, Bob Lennie, Roy Kerr, Nick Matlock, Jack Stevens, Archie Stubbs and Ed Weeks.

The nomination committee then presented the names of those who were standing for re-election for another term. These were Henry Hobson, Peter Edwards, Geoff Sarsons, Eric Tasker and J. P. Fergusson, and they were unanimously re-elected. For the first time in several years the nomination committee was in the position of nominating eight new candidates who had expressed their desire to stand for election. These were Peter Mallam, W. E. Itakes, Hal Odium, H. D. Dendy, R. D. C. Benmore, Albert Cavallin, Norman Sprout and Stan Holly. As there were no further nominations from the floor, these names were put to the meeting and were unanimously elected and the business meeting was then adjourned.

The evening's proceedings were brought to a close by the presentation of a technicolor film of Wild Life in Northern British Columbia put out by the Forestry Department, and a very old 'Hal Roach' feature of 'The Dead End Kids' that was much appreciated by the small fry. The serving of coffee and cakes by the Ladies Auxiliary represented by Mrs. Betty Knox and Mrs. Margery Hobson, ended a successful and interesting meeting.

WESTBANK DRIVER

Criminal Negligence Charge Found Proved

VERNON (Staff)—An Assize Court jury took just 15 minutes before coming to rest more than Monday to find James Robert Clough, 21, of Westbank, guilty of criminally negligent driving.

He and Albert Anson Robinson, in the car at the time, told the court they had been drinking beer, gin and wine on the eve of Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes.

Clough was driver of a car which drove at high speed off Highway 97 near Westbank last Sept. 3, killing 24-year-old Joseph Tomat of the Westbank Indian Reserve and injuring Clough and three others.

Nine witnesses were called in the all-day trial.

Evidence was produced which indicated the car was travelling at speeds in excess of 80 mph before it missed a bend in the road and took off for 90 feetis death.

Defence counsel George Sullivan contended the left front tire and tube of the vehicle had been in faulty condition and had contributed to the accident.

Crown counsel for the final assize case, Peter Seaton of Vernon, said the Crown had reduced to shooting with intent to wound a charge of attempted non-capital murder preferred against Lester Lezard, 16, of the Penticton Indian Reserve. Lezard was charged in connection with the shooting death of Robert Manuel on the reserve.

He will appear in Assize Court today.

Fifteen-year-old Doreen Wilson, sitting in the rear seat when the car left the road, said "They were all getting pretty drunk."

She said her brother Leonard, 19, had sat beside driver Clough just before the accident and chanted out the speed 85, 90, 95, 100, as the car accelerated.

Leonard Wilson was in hospital 56 days after he and the others were spilled from the vehicle as it crashed through a fence and mowed down a row of trees.

Dr. Desmond Morrow of Kelowna said the deceased man had been in a high degree of intoxication at the time of the accident.

RAIL CROSSINGS

Mayor Blasts Carelessness

VERNON (Staff)—There are quite a few Vernon people who deliberately want to commit suicide, says Mayor Frank Becker.

He told City Council Monday that carelessness at rail-road crossings in the city could easily break the city's enviable death-free record.

He said the city's enviable death-free record, which dates back to October, 1959.

"Some people just will not stop (at crossings) even when they see the warning light and hear the bell," he said.

A letter started the mayor on the road to sharp criticism of sloppiness of vehicle and pedestrian traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Campbell, of 1901 Thirty-Ninth Avenue, wrote council strongly suggesting there is "urgent need for some form of signal light or drop gate barrier at the railway crossing on Thirty-Ninth Avenue."

They informed council they had seen a number of "near misses" of people or vehicles closely escaping injury from passing trains.

Traffic committee chairman Ald. Franklyn Valair wasn't entirely in agreement.

"That crossing is no better and no worse than any other," he said.

Equipping all crossings with lights and gates would be quite an affair."

The letter was referred to the Traffic Committee for investigation.

THANKS RECEIVED

A letter was also received thanking council for deciding not to sell the old sandpit on Pleasant Valley Road.

Mrs. Rita Campbell, in a letter on behalf of petitioners in the area, where children use the pit for a playground, complimented council on its foresight.

The Advisory Planning Commission has also recommended against the sale.

LOW POLLUTION

City engineer David McKay said recent health unit tests of water at Kin Beach showed a very low bacteria count, well within acceptable public health standards.

He said recent tests of city storm sewers proved that there is need for improvement of drains to insure quick runoff during periods of heavy rain and snow.

A report will be issued soon, he said, which would indicate work which should be done in early 1962.

ERROR IN REPORT ON LUMBY BYLAW

In a report Monday concerning the Lumby sewage disposal bylaw, it was erroneously reported that the monthly service was $12. This is not correct and should read $2.75.

Funeral For J. J. Bradford

VERNON (Correspondent)—Funeral services were held this week for Joseph John Bradford, aged 76. Born in Essex, England, he came to Canada 51 years ago, moving to Vancouver after a brief period in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford came to Vernon 41 years ago, Mr. Bradford becoming plant electrician for the city. He continued in this capacity when the plant was taken over by the Western Canada Hydro and later by the B.C. Power Commission.

Surviving is his widow and one son, Leslie, of Vernon; daughters, Mrs. Mabel Webster of Toronto and Mrs. Jean Leslie, of Vancouver, and nine grandchildren. Burial was in Vernon Cemetery.

Slight Drop In Building

VERNON (Staff)—Despite the recession city building is only down about two per cent from 1960.

The building inspector's report to council Monday showed permits this year total $1,262,915 compared to $1,288,389 last year.

Total for last November was $14,500 compared to $153,300 in 1960. A similar large drop between November 1961 and 1960 occurred in Coldstream municipality.

Two building permits were issued last month compared to 10 in November, 1960.

Total of 139 permits have been issued to the end of November compared to 156 in 1960.

City Dump Fire Control 'Must Be More Efficient'

VERNON (Staff)—Public Health Chairman Ald. James Holt on Monday recommended more efficient fire control at the city dump.

"Present regulations should be brought up to date and strictly adhered to," he reported to City Council.

He said the garbage caretaker was getting into a lot of arguments with people using the dump and should have more positive support from council.

The report follows a letter to council earlier complaining of the hazard from the fire at the dump spreading to nearby buildings in high winds which often sweep the area.

But he had another answer for them too.

"These people knew the dump was there when they made their home in the area. They went in with their eyes open."

City engineer David Mackay later said it was hoped to construct a firebreak road around the dump to help prevent spreading of ground fires.

VERNON (Staff)—The city may protest the proposed rate increase of the Okanagan Telephone Company.

The company has applied to the Public Utilities Commission for rate increases which would mean an overall 11 per cent boost of gross revenue.

"I think this city council should oppose any increase of rates," said Ald. Fred August when council on Monday considered the OTC brief.

"We have been forced to accept direct dialing which I feel is no benefit to my firm."

"The company has spent hundreds of thousands automating their plant. Now they want an increase to cover it."

"This council should take the initiative to prepare a brief to oppose the increase," he said.

Mayor Frank Becker said all members of city council should read the brief before commenting further.

The matter was referred to the City Hall committee for study and report.

Protest On Phone Hike Likely

Vernon Leads, Other Follow

VERNON (Staff)—When it comes to skiing Vernon is definitely the senior service, suggests Ald. Franklyn Valair jokingly.

City council on Monday received an invitation to the opening of the new Apex Ski Resort near Penticton at 2 p.m. Sunday.

"I move that Vernon be represented, and that Penticton be congratulated for following the lead established by Vernon in developing ski areas," he quipped.

Novel Travel Clinic Aims At Attitude of Motorists

EDMONTON (CP) — Driver in that they concentrate on the attitude is the key to a novel driver's attitude rather than traffic clinic here aimed at re-technique or law. The clinic began in late November after a year of study by government, law enforcement and private agencies in carrying this into the traffic courts. The clinic's principles differ from those in other parts of Canada and the United States court here in 1960, about 90 per cent involved traffic. The percentage remains steady but to mid-November this year the number of cases had climbed to 31,000.

WORLD BRIEFS

FREED ON BAIL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia boxing promoter under a 15-year prison term for conspiracy, was released Monday from jail on $100,000 bail pending appeal. Palermo and four others, including Frankie Carbo, former underworld boxing figure, were convicted last May of conspiracy to muscle in on the earnings of former welterweight champion Don Jordan.

officials said today. They said Cantor's films were blacklisted here because of his alleged pro-Zionist activities.

ENDS TOUR

RANGOON (AP) — Princess Alexandra of Kent ended her Far East tour today and flew to Aden after an eight-day visit to Burma.

BACK AT OFFICE

BONN (Reuters) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer returned to his office today after 12 days of confinement to his home with a cold caught during his Washington talks with President Kennedy last month.

CLASH WITH POLICE

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Suburban factory workers demanding cheaper bus and tram fares clashed with police Monday in skirmishing that stretched from morning to night. At least 34 persons were hurt.

BAN CANTOR FILMS

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The government has banned imports of motion pictures in which Eddie Cantor appears, persons were hurt.

Statistics will be kept on the results of the clinic here as well as those that will be established in other centres if the school proves worthwhile in Edmonton.

"I have no doubt the program will go a long way in helping the driver who consistently breaks the laws of the road but who feels he is not doing serious wrong."

"In other centres the clinics involve lectures with instructors throwing the hard facts of life at the drivers with no idea whether they are catching them," Mr. Lawrence said.

"In our program the teachers bait the drivers into a class discussion on driving. This way the drivers arrive at the solutions themselves."

"An example would be a discussion about what is meant by 'cave-man driving' . . ."

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor gave his support to the plan and, while not committing the government to financial assistance, said he would think the legislature would look favorably upon helping the program.

World Stocks Of Wheat Set For Sharp Decline

LONDON (Reuters) — World stocks of wheat are likely to decline substantially in 1961-62 for the first time in four years with trade reaching "record levels," the International Wheat Council forecast today.

A statement on the findings of the council's 33rd session, held here Nov. 20 - Dec. 1, said the outlook for 1961-62 indicates "some alleviation in the world wheat situation," due almost entirely to weather factors.

JOINT RESEARCH

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) — The Lethbridge research station is to work with other agricultural research establishments in Canada to find ways of removing radioactivity from food. Dr. T. H. Anstey, director of the station, is optimistic about finding practical methods for treating cereals, milk, meat and potatoes.

These resulted in a "sharp fall in production in 1961 in Canada, smaller crops in the United States and many countries of Western Europe and the increased import requirements of Communist China."

The statement said: "While it is too early to form an opinion of the situation, the level of wheat production in 1962, it should be noted that the conditions for winter wheat in the United States and Western Europe are generally favorable."

"But in the hard spring wheat area of Canada and the United States moisture reserves are exceptionally low. At the same time the United States wheat production program to reduce the wheat acreage could have important effects by way of smaller supplies."

The council estimated total world trade in wheat in 1960-61 at 42,000,000 tons.

So much for backing the underdogs. And ignoring the odds: and ignoring the opinions of those who know: and thinking I'm so all-blamed smart in arguing that McNeeley's savagery might give him an edge on cautious Patterson: and giving into whims to bet on the intangibles and the Law of Averages or the Law of Freak Upsets.

I tried to convert a mess of junior hockey players to this sacrifice, but they don't convert easy.

Last night's heavyweight boxing fight went three rounds longer than it should have. There was absolutely no doubt from the first exploratory jab about the outcome.

Like, move over Joshua, and let me push the brick walls down, too. Patterson cleaned McNeeley's clock but proper.

THE OVERDOGS

So much for backing the overdogs.

I laid my terribly well-thought-of talents of football on a theoretical line; and discovered that theoretical lines aren't dependable.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats, I told the world. Of course, I said. How can you think such things, the West is never as good as the East, and look what the Cats did to Toronto? I queried a devout western fan whose face spelled love-at-game-tieing-sight when Ploen jaugernauted his way into the end zone, creaming a couple of hot cats on his way in.

He does it so well, it wants to make you cry for joy.

NO SUCH LUCK

Some days you can't make a dishonest buck.

Either that, or I am justifying all my avid readers' opinion about the critical level of intelligence. Which, say a few, has the stability and height of the water table on the top of Mount Everest. Ah, so, Big Daddy San, as somebody used to quip.

I swear it, indeedly I do, after today I won't mention Stan Kelly again. For a while.

But this is too good to pass up, and I'm sure Stan the Man wouldn't want me to, and, what's more, obviously is begging me to do. Like yelling misconduct on two of a team's players in the dying minutes of a tied-up game, his latest is.

He said: (Anent football generally.)

"Now as to our aching silence regarding the league generally, we have to give you an A for accuracy here, too, as we will admit it was with difficulty that we held to our subject the Golden Hawks and refrained from any unkind remarks regarding the league.

"And unkind they would have been, too, we're afraid, had we elected to make them at that time because from here some of the developments in the league this year scarcely met with our unqualified approbation.

"In fact had we been commenting on them then while they were fresh in our minds, but far from fragrant in our opinion, it's a certainty that our remarks would have been pointed and pungent.

"However, now, with some time having passed with its usual mellowing effect, our only observation on the subject would be the quiet reflection that the attitude and actions of the two most northern members of the league, Kamloops and North Kamloops, left considerable to be desired.

"North Kamloops in particular, both in the stand they took regarding Kelowna and their own rather high-handed cancelling of their final game were hardly calculated to lengthen the life of the league or be instrumental in making it a howling success.

"In fact, unless they do an about-face next season, and temper their inflexible outlook with a little more understanding and co-operation in the solving of the problem of others, we would be inclined to suggest that the league might find it much easier to struggle along without them."

And then Stanley said "So there you are, Eric and remember—if these kind of remarks should chance to stir a tempest in a teapot, you're the guy who put the kettle on to boil—YOU DRUG IT OUT OF US AGAINST OUR WILL."

PULLED HARD

Shore, like a team of wild horses, I pulled.

What are you looking for Kelly? A secret message like "Joe sent me," which will get you into 442 Leon Ave., Kelowna, B.C.? Wanna get your name recommended for Kelowna's little Who's Who? Looking for a job at Shops Capri, maybe?

Pre-modified delivery, I tried to say in my tangled skeins of rhetoric, and in my rambling way (twere'n't my fault it came out 'scrambled' and 'skins' yesterday) that the duds are Kelownians. I personally know the people at North Kamloops, and if you had been fed the diet of fantasy cooked up by some local people, you could have worked your Irish into a high dudgeon, too, like they did.

NOT DELIBERATE

Few people perpetrate lies deliberately when it affects kids in sport.

How well we do in projecting that fanciful idea about Mistress Truth depends on hindsight, foresight and insight, I think and a darn sight of facts. I'm sure you'll agree, Stan, even facts are subject to being relative.

But the evidence was too blatant, even for inexperience. They fibbed. It's annoying.

Royalites Win Slim 47-45 Teddie's Dumped By Males

Kelowna Royalites stepped up beside Oroville Merchants in league standings Saturday, defeating Pentleton Dealers 47-45.

Pentleton led 20-19 at half-time. Royalites came back and outscored the hustling Pentleton club to collect the two-point edge that gave them the game.

Leading scorer for the Oroville City complement was Bud Englesby with 13 points, followed by Frank Fritz with an even dozen. For Pentleton it was Charlie Preen, 17 points, followed by Don Puddy with a dozen.

Melkie Teddie Bears are presently sharpening up on a hustling high school Senior 'A' firm. Saturday night the boys outclassed the girls 41-28. Coach Bob Hall said he expected it to be worse than it was.

Next weekend Teddies travel to the coast to play Richmond 'A'.

Doug Perry scored highest for the masculine side of Saturday's game with 18 points, and Diane Beach topped the feminine list with 12.

Bob Hall says he expects Senior 'A' competition to rough up his club a little more than they've been used to in the past, so the practice with the boys will prepare the Canadian 'B' champions for their tougher opposition.

In the Royalites-Dealers game, playing coach Harvey Raymond received two technical fouls. Players, said referee Bob Hall, have been criticizing referees too much on the floor.

Raymond reportedly spoke up loudly on a decision Hall made, and received a technical foul. He approached Bob Hall again, and his action resulted in a second technical foul. He was banished by Hall from the vicinity of the court for duration of the game.

Sunday the league executive decided to suspend Raymond for two games.

FLOYD PATTERSON
... still champion

PATTERSON, LISTON OUTSTANDING WINNERS

But There Was No Competition

TORONTO (CP) — World heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson says he hasn't the killer instinct. But he'll need it if his manager, Cus D'Amato, ever matches his fighter against Sonny Liston.

This was evident to scores of fight fans in Canada and the United States Monday night in a closed-theatre television doubleheader that featured the champ in Toronto and Liston in Philadelphia. Each won over overhousers but Sonny impressed the customers.

It took Patterson four rounds and eight knockdowns to dispose of unranked Tim McNeeley of Arlington, Mass., before 7,813 persons at Maple Leaf Gardens in the eighth defence of the title he won in 1956. Liston needed only one solid punch, a vicious right cross to the jaw to finish West Germany's Albert Westphal at 1:58 of the first round in Convention Hall. Closed-circuit cameras beamed both fights to the respective arenas and to more than 100 theatres through North America. There was little skirmishing in the Liston fight. In Toronto, it was a brawl with McNeeley, as green as the trunks he was wearing, monotonously getting up to take a thrashing until he sprawled down for keeps at 2:51 of the fourth.

LISTON IS READY

"I do not have the killer instinct," Patterson, 26, admitted after his wounding with McNeeley, 24.

"I'm ready for Patterson now," said Liston, who opened the twin bill and then watched the title fight.

Liston is the No. 1 challenger and a natural to take on the champ.

"Liston can have a fight next week if he wants one," D'Amato said. "He knows what he has to do to get that. No. 1."

CAUSES CONFUSION

The mandatory eight-count was in effect on knockdowns Monday night when McNeeley, a 10-to-1 underdog, was led to the sacrificial altar.

A crowd of 7,813 paid up to $50 a seat to watch Canada's first world heavyweight title bout at the 15,000-capacity Gardens.

whether McNeeley had gone down eight, nine or 10 times and Patterson once.

Expert observers figured the six-foot-two, 197-pounder hit the deck eight times and was down twice on slips. But he was still able to nail Patterson after the first of three knockdowns in the fourth round and the champ wobbled and started to go down. His glove appeared to hit the canvas but it was ruled a slip.

Referee Jersey Joe Walcott, former heavyweight titleholder from Camden, N.J., explained that "when I didn't count, I figured it was a slip."

After Patterson was hit, the champion felled his bleeding opponent for two eight-counts. At the end fans weren't certain with left-right barrages and then finally with a left-right combination to the jaw for the full count of 10.

McNeeley didn't agree with Walcott that Patterson had slipped. "I really hit him, I tried to finish it then but Patterson was too elusive. That was my chance but I couldn't capitalize on it."

SAYS HE SLIPPED

Of the slip — or knockdown — Patterson said, "I really felt that punch. I knew exactly what was going on as I went down. It's when you don't know what's happening that you're in trouble. I don't call that a knockdown. It was a slip. A knockdown is when the fighter goes down and doesn't know where he is."

The champion, who has defended his title nine times and who has been knocked out once by Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, referred again to the killer instinct. He said he had 40 fights and won 38 of them without it.

"After all, this is a sport, not a business. You have to show some consideration to the other fighter."

But don't feel sorry for McNeeley, who ended with a well under his right eye. He had his biggest payday in 24 pro fights. It is estimated he'll receive a purse of close to $82,000—$21,000 from his share of the $106,740 gate receipts and $60,000 from theatre-TV. His previous high was a measly $9,000. Patterson is expected to pick up around $190,000.

"No Sweat" Sonny Says After One-Round Farce

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sonny Liston says little. His impassive face successfully hides his inner thoughts. Still, one gets the impression Liston feels heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson won't give him a shot at the world title.

Liston and Patterson fought on the same card Monday night in different cities and against different opponents. Television made it possible. In a closed-circuit TV fight doubleheader, Liston knocked out Albert Westphal of West Germany at 1:58 of the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder before 4,000 fans in the Convention Hall here.

After the Philadelphia heavyweight of right cross to the jaw rendering the German baker senseless for about three minutes, Patterson successfully defended his crown against Tom McNeeley, knocking out the challenger from Arlington, Mass., in 2:51 of the fourth round of their scheduled 15-rounder at Toronto.

Liston, who said the only sweat he raised was warming ton. "About a year and a half," someone volunteered.

"That's how long he's been scared of me," Liston said. Then he clammed up.

WATCHES PATTERSON

Liston, 28, watched the Patterson bout intently. He said virtually nothing as reporters pressed him for comment after each round. He said after the third that Patterson was missing a lot of punches.

Then it was over and Patterson, as suspected, was still the champ. Patterson was asked about his future plans. Would he fight Sonny Liston next?

Liston leaned forward in his seat, a blank expression on his face. Patterson then professed "the greatest respect for Sonny Liston—in the ring." The champ had dodged the question.

Liston jerked back into his seat, his first overt act of disappointment. He mumbled something about being sorry Floyd didn't come out and say flatly Sonny was next.

A reporter asked Liston: "Do you think your performance tonight scared Patterson?"

"How long have I been the No. 1 challenger?" asked Liston. "About a year and a half," someone volunteered.

"That's how long he's been scared of me," Liston said. Then he clammed up.

Evan Williams, manager of Kelowna O'Keefes lacrosse club, announced today that the club will play in 1962.

At a meeting Monday night, more than 25 men attending heard John Ritchie say that O'Keefe Brewery has promised continued support of the club.

Tommy Schmidt reported that all bills were paid for 1961. This was considered to be a somewhat remarkable feat, as the club only played three home games last season.

City Council has promised the club a box to be built under the Winter Works program this winter. Executive of the O'Keefes will meet with City Council to find out what progress in plans has been made.

Manager Evan Williams said, "A lacrosse box would give the team as well as 50-100 youths a place to play in."

A general meeting of the club will be held in January, 1962, to finalize plans for next year's action.

About Boxing: Folley Fights May Be Folly

LONDON (AP) — Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., steps back into a London fight tonight—something he vowed never to do again after his upset defeat by Britain's Henry Cooper three years ago.

That controversial 10-round decision in Cooper's favor sent Folley slumping in the world heavyweight boxing ratings.

Folley went home with many hard thoughts about British boxing and refereeing. Nobody ever expected to see him back again in London.

But tonight, Folley will tangle with the man who got the decision over him the last time—Cooper.

Anyone and everyone was chosen in the draft, which included John Havlicek, renowned Ohio State basketball player.

Davis, Helmsman Trophy winner, was the prime target and is the first Negro ever drafted by the Redskins.

Word quickly spread that Washington would trade Davis for an established pro star. However, Paul Brown, coach of Cleveland Browns, at first declined that he would trade half-back Bobby Mitchell and top draft choice Gary Collins of Maryland for Davis.

Brown later said he might deal Mitchell in a straight trade for Davis.

Manitoba Urges 'Peg Be Prairie Air Centre

REGINA (CP) — The Manitoba government recommended Monday that Winnipeg be made the centre of a Prairie regional air system with TransAir Limited the carrier.

The proposal was made by Industry and Commerce Minister Gurney Evans of Manitoba in a submission to the air transport board which opened hearings here today on the future of Prairie air services.

Government-owned TransCanada Air Lines wants to abandon its route linking Prairie centres as uneconomic and four private lines including TransAir have applied to take it over.

Mr. Evans' brief was released to the press before presentation to the board.

The brief said that Winnipeg-based TransAir has the location, the operational characteristics and management abilities to warrant award of the licence to serve the Prairie route.

At the same time Winnipeg is the historical, financial, distribution and transportation centre of the Prairies and would best serve as the "focal point for the development of a system of air routes for the region."

cross-roads of the Prairies. TransAir would be able to operate the Prairie route more profitably than others because it is located in the central city of the Prairie region.

Its gross revenue would be higher because of the greater business potential available in Winnipeg. This factor would help reduce subsidy requirements.

Winnipeg would be a turn-around point at one end of the Prairie air route and TransAir's maintenance and overhaul facilities would of course be there.

AVOIDS EXTRA COST

Thus costs in sending aircraft without a payload from the air service route to a maintenance base would be avoided.

Aircraft could be easily serviced and overhauled at the end of a regular run.

TransAir would also be able to effect economies in use of aircraft and aircraft time because Winnipeg is a common turn-around point for several other air routes.

These economies would not be realized if the Prairie air carrier was based at a centre some distance from connecting air services.

In addition the flying public would find it a greater convenience if Winnipeg was the centre of the Prairie air route because of the interchange potential there.

Employment Index Rises

OTTAWA (CP) — The index of industrial employment in Canada decreased in September to 123.2 compared with 123.9 in August, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The index, based on 1949 employment equalling 100, was up slightly from 123.1 in September last year.

Employment indexes were down in most of the industrial division except forestry, trade, and non-durable goods manufacturing.

Employment in construction dropped three per cent from the previous month while losses in mining, durable goods manufacturing, public utility operation, transportation, storage and communication were between one and two per cent.

Average weekly wages and salaries in September were $78.73 compared with $78.27 in August and $76.55 in the same 1960 period.

Plans For BNA Changes Like A 'Straight Jacket'

MONTREAL (CP) — Prof. Frank R. Scott, dean of law at McGill University, said today the federal government's formula for amending the British North America Act "seems designed to put the country into a straight-jacket."

Prof. Scott said in a statement the plan disclosed Friday by Justice Minister Fulton, which would require unanimous provincial consent for certain basic constitutional changes, could deny future governments "the flexibility which is so necessary in this rapidly changing world."

This requirement calling for unanimous consent is the key provision in the formula de-provincial agreement.

Opening lead — three of diamonds.

The best way to approach the play in most suit contracts is to start by counting losers. If we apply this rule to the present deal, we see that there is a loser in each suit.

The next thing to do, since losing four tricks means down one, is to search for a way of saving one of those tricks.

The first and most obvious chance of gaining a trick is to play the jack of diamonds on the opening lead, since there is a good chance West led away from the queen.

However, when we do this,

East produces the queen. We win with the ace and then look for other means of saving a trick.

A second possibility is to try to make use of the queen of hearts so as to develop two heart tricks where only one presently exists. However, to do this, we have to lead a heart from dummy towards the queen, and this requires getting to dummy first for the play.

Accordingly, at trick two we lead the five of spades to the nine. As it happens, East has the ace, wins it, and returns a diamond. We take the king and lead the six of spades to the ten, noting with satisfaction that both opponents follow suit.

Now comes the low heart play from dummy. Luckily, East has the king. He takes it, cashes a diamond, and shifts to a club.

This does not bother us, since everything is now fully under our control. We take the club, cash the queen of hearts, and then lead the carefully preserved two of spades to the three. This enables us to get rid of a club loser on the ace of hearts and we wind up making the contract, losing a spade, a heart and a diamond.

The entire process requires some advance planning and a moderate amount of luck. The result was not guaranteed to be successful, since it depended on how the opponents' cards were divided, but at least we gave ourselves the best chance to make the contract.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Good planetary rays now encourage mental alertness, and particularly favor those in the writing professions. A slightly adverse Mars influence, however, warns against over-aggressiveness in all dealings. You will accomplish a great deal more by being cooperative and gentle in speech and manner.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates it would be advisable to use all of your innate imagination and originality to advance career goals between now and the end of February. Good progress is indicated during this period and could serve to boost your status still further during 1962. Where finances are concerned, the same period will also be a good one, but do not expect another upward trend along these lines until the first of next September. Consolidate what gains you make between now and the end of February, and prepare for a somewhat "dull period" momentarily speaking, for about six months in mid-1962.

Where personal relationships are concerned, the stars are most generous, so that your domestic, social and sentimental interest should prosper happily. In the latter connection, January, May and June will be unusually good months. If you have a year to travel, make plans now to "take off" somewhere between next May and August.

A child born on this day will be self-confident and extremely amiable in his dealings with others.

Maple Street needs another Volkswagen.

When you own a Volkswagen, you can expect company after a snow storm. Inquisitive company. They'll want to know why your car got through the drifts, and theirs didn't.

There's no trick to it. A Volkswagen has its engine in the rear where it does the most good. The extra weight over the drive wheels provides an amazing amount of traction, even on icy hills. When you want to stop safely, but in a hurry, the VW's traction keeps you out of trouble.

Another blessing in cold weather is the VW's air-cooled engine. There's no water, so there's no need for anti-freeze. You don't even need a garage. (If your Volkswagen won't start in sub-zero weather, check the gas gauge.)

Look underneath a conventional car and you'll find wires and rods and whatnot. In deep snow they can be a drag, and they can be damaged.

The underside of a Volkswagen is completely covered with a smooth sheet of metal. There's nothing to hold you back but your own caution.

So, if clearing a snow-filled driveway is not for you, make friends with a Volkswagen owner. Or, better still, a Volkswagen dealer.

JFK To Ask Congress For Power To Aim At Free Trade With ECM

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy will ask Congress for sufficient power to work towards partial free trade with Europe's Common Market. It was learned from authorities who have been working on the program since August.

The president's proposals, to be placed before Congress early next month, would empower him through broad reciprocal trade deals to reduce U.S. tariffs by an over-all 50 per cent over a period of two to three years.

Kennedy intends, however, to ask for sufficient flexibility to exercise the proposed power in such a way that it may result in cuts of less than 50 per cent on some categories of goods and complete elimination of tariffs on others.

The aim would be to "break open" the European Common Market for U.S. exports through a reciprocal trans-Atlantic lowering of tariff barriers. But benefits of any tariff reductions achieved through international negotiations would spill over, extending on a non-discriminatory basis to Canada and other countries trading in American and European markets.

The U.S. hope is that Canada also will adopt a more liberalized trade policy, supporting the U.S. position. But because the Canadian population is small and her domestic market limited, U.S. authorities said they realized that only the United States has sufficient market power to exercise these "economic leverage" to entice Europe into broad tariff cuts.

Things Too Easy Now Says West's Fastest Lady Saw

COURTENAY, B.C. (CP) — Mrs. Esther Forsman likes to recall the days when she was the fastest saw in the West — in the world, for that matter.

In 23 years of competition in log bucking, she never once was defeated.

"I just competed at Campbell River (B.C.) in 1959, and the attractive housewife, 'but now I guess I'm too old.'"

She was a winner of every Canadian and United States event she entered from the time she was talked into a ladies' hand-bucking saw — off in 1937.

She won the world title in Tacoma, Wash., in 1938, when she sliced through a 2½-inch log in one minute, 17½ seconds. But her biggest thrills were coming within a second or two of champion men's times in training sessions.

Her toughest event was on stage in the Empress Hotel in Victoria at the 1940 Pacific Logging Congress. She defended her title successfully but the log skidded on the slippery floor of the stage with every stroke of her saw.

Her husband, Uno, a faller with Coniox Logging and Railway Company for 35 years, was both her coach and saw-filer.

One explanation for her skill, she says, was the experience of cutting firewood in her native Finland.

WAYS WILL BE SOUGHT TO HALT 'HUNTERS HUNTING THEMSELVES'

VICTORIA (CP) — Attorney General Robert Bonner of British Columbia said Monday his department will seek ways to stop "hunters from hunting each other."

He said he has ordered a study of recommendations made by coroner's juries inquiring into five hunting deaths in the province this season.

But Mr. Bonner declined comment on one jury's recommendation that every person who takes a life in a hunting accident should be charged under the appropriate section of the Criminal Code.

This jury was inquiring into the death of Ted Brooks, 41, a forester shot dead by an 18-year-old hunter near Port Alberni, B.C. a week ago.

Separatist Boss Quits Position

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Marcel Chaput, 43-year-old head of a Quebec separatist movement, resigned from the Defence Research Board Monday after being suspended for two weeks for disobeying board instructions.

Dr. Chaput, a biochemist with DRB, announced his resignation in a statement to the press when he arrived at this office in the morning. He then called on Dr. N. W. Morton, chief of personnel for DRB, and handed in his resignation.

In his statement, Dr. Chaput said that even if he still maintained the opinion that a federal government employee could support the idea of a separate state for Quebec "I must recognize that my public activities create an uneasiness in any environment."

"Moreover," he said, "as the next federal election is near, I want to avoid my personal case becoming the plaything of politics."

FLOUTED ORDER

Dr. Chaput was suspended from DRB Nov. 20 for flouting a board order refusing him leave from his job to speak in Quebec City Nov. 17 on the aims of separation.

At that time Dr. John Keyston, acting chairman of DRB, said Dr. Chaput was suspended for "willful disobedience" of a board decision.

The outspoken advocate of a separate state for Quebec said in his statement that he resigned "firstly and before anything else to devote myself completely to the cause of independence for Quebec."

Dr. Chaput is president of Rassemblement pour l'Indépendance Nationale, one of the most active organizations supporting Quebec's secession from Confederation.

Dr. Chaput's statement said that during the last few months the organization he heads has expanded greatly. He said it must have a permanent structure, an essential condition for its success.

He said he will assume leadership of the organization on a fulltime basis.

HOLDS NO RANCOUR

His statement said that in resigning he does not yield to the pressures of DRB or the government. He was resigning "of my own accord, without rancour for my superiors."

In announcing Dr. Chaput's suspension two weeks ago, Dr. Keyston said that the Quebec separatist would not be fired for his defiance of the board's refusal to grant him leave.

Dr. Keyston said the two-week suspension was designed as a "total punishment." It was "straight disciplinary action."

'Single Front' Air Policy For Canada's Airlines

VANCOUVER (CP) — Trans-carriers should not be devoted to fighting each other. Those efforts should be aimed at providing a "single front" for Trans-Canada Air Lines and Canadian Pacific Airlines in dealing with other international airlines are to survive.

But the minister also said that of the primary objectives of Canada's air policy. "I will continue to seek the development of a policy which on economic principles aimed at ensuring the financial health of Canadian civil aviation."

The minister's statement implied support for some method of merging or uniting of the publicly-owned TCA and the privately-owned CPA on international air routes.

BROAD HINT

In a speech at the opening of the new TCA air maintenance base here, Mr. Balcer hinted broadly that on world routes TCA and CPA should work together, not in competition.

"It is my opinion that, given the competition now existing in world aviation, the best interest of TCA and CPA will not be served if, in addition to competing with foreign carriers, they are competing with each other," he said.

"If fighting is to take place — I use this word in the competitive economic sense — I believe the efforts of our two change of planes," said Mr.

More direct services by both Canadian and U.S. air carriers between our respective population centres is a goal we seek — one which we believe is in the best interest of the air traveler."

Canada is currently seeking to revise its bilateral air agreement with the U.S. to expand Canadian penetration to major U.S. cities.
